- Accordingly, each voter has a total number of votes corresponding to the total number of voting shares (including owned and authorized) multiplied by the number of elected members of BOD approved by the General Meeting of Shareholders.
- Voters can cast all their votes for one person or several people, but not exceeding the number of members of the BOD approved by the General Meeting of Shareholders.
- In case of additional candidates appearing on the day of the General Meeting, the General Meeting agrees to record the full name of the new candidate on the ballot before putting it in the ballot box.

IX. Election Ballot

1. Contents of the Election Ballot

- The Election ballot for the election of the Board of Directors (hereinafter referred to as "ballot") is a ballot containing the voter code, full name of the voter, number of votes owned, number of votes authorized, total number of votes represented, total number of votes for members of BOD and stamped with the Company's seal. In which:
 - + "Total number of representative votes": is understood as the number of votes with voting rights including the number of votes owned by the Voter and/or authorized by one or more other Voter;
 - + "Total number of votes for members of BOD": is understood as the total number of representative votes multiplied (x) by the number of elected members of BOD. (3 members)
- Each voter will be given 01 Election ballot for the Board of Directors and 01 Election ballot for the Board of Supervisors. When given the ballot, the voter must check the information on the ballot; if there is any error, the ballot must be immediately notified to the Vote Counting Committee.
- "Equal Cumulative Voting" is a method of cumulative voting whereby Delegates may either allocate all of their votes to one (01) candidate or equally distribute their votes among the maximum number of candidates corresponding to the number of Board of Directors members to be elected. After the equal allocation, the number of votes allocated to each candidate shall be rounded down to the nearest whole number. Any remaining fractional votes (if any) shall be disregarded.

2. Instructions for Filling Out the Election Ballot

Each Election ballot allows voting for a maximum number of members of BOD as specified in Clause 1, Section IV of this Regulation. Voters shall cast their votes according to the following guidelines:

- Case 1: If the voter casts all votes for one (01) candidate or distributes votes equally among several candidates:

The voter marks the checkbox in the "Equal Cumulative Voting" column for the selected candidates.

- Case 2: If the delegate casts votes unequally for multiple candidates:

The delegate shall clearly write the number of votes cast (not exceeding the total number of votes of the delegate) in the "Number of votes" column for that candidate.

- Case 3: If the voter does not vote for any candidate:

The delegate leaves the ballot blank, WITHOUT MARKING OR WRITING any symbol in the "Equal Cumulative Voting" column and the "Number of Votes" for all candidates.

Note: In case the voter both ticks the box "Equal Cumulative Voting" and writes a number in the checkbox "Number of votes", the result shall be determined according to the number of votes written in the checkbox "Number of votes".

3. Validity and invalidity of election ballots

- Valid election ballot: is an election ballot according to the pre-printed form issued by the organizing committee, without erasures, scratches, or any other content other than the regulations for the election ballot (except for adding the full name of the additional election candidate and being on the election list approved by the Meeting); must have the signature and full name of the attending delegate.
- The following ballots will be considered invalid:
 - + The ballot includes additional information (except for the full name of the additional election candidate who is included in the election list approved by the Meeting);
 - + Ballots filled out using a pencil;
 - + Ballots that have crossed out the candidates' names;
